

NEW CANDIDATE
FOR POPESHIP

Cardinal De Pietro, a Very Sainly Man, Aged
Seventy-Five, Is Talked Of.

LAST MASS IS SAID

The Sistine Chapel Was the Scene of the Last
Requiem, at One O'clock.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Rome, July 28.—At one o'clock this morning the last requiem masses for Pope Leo were celebrated in the Sistine chapel; Cardinal Vanutelli
celebrant; Cardinals Agli, Vincenzo, Sastoli and Ricardio were among his assistants. Those present merely included all cardinals and high officials of the vatican. Special pontifical prayers were offered and the ceremonials were of splendid character.

Another Candidate
Another strong candidate for the choice of the conclave has developed in Cardinal de Pietro, cardinal chief of the office of briefs. He is a sainly man of seventy-five who in his youth was the object of a prophesy that he would one day become pope.

The Betting
The profane betting is now twenty-five to one against Rampolla, fifteen to one against Vanutelli and ten to one against Gotti.

RUSSIA MAKES
ANOTHER MOVE

Stops by Force, the Export of Wheat from New Chang to Japan.

Peking, July 28.—The Russian administration of New Chang has stopped the exportation of wheat to Japan. The export of grain from Chinese ports is illegal, but the Russians heretofore have ignored the law.

During the last week the Japanese obtained many ship loads from New Chang, apparently preparing for war contingencies. Several ships were employed in bringing wheat from Shanghai and southern ports to New Chang, where it was trans-shipped as a direct export. The prohibitory order was issued by the Russian officials last Thursday.

General Kondradovitch has been placed in charge of six armed commercial boats and the navigation of the Liao river, which is construed here as another sign of Russia's intention to retain New Chang and the command of the river.

Great numbers of Russian civilians and soldiers' families, it is reported, are being brought to Manchuria; it is believed in pursuance of a comprehensive plan to rapidly colonize the province. At the present rate there will be almost 100,000 Russian civilians in Manchuria, including Port Arthur and Dally, before the date fixed for the final evacuation next fall.

BICYCLE THEFTS
ARE INCREASING

Loss of Many Wheels Has Been Reported.—W. D. Utter Recovered His Rambler.

So many wheels have disappeared
of late as to lead to the suspicion that an organized gang of bicycle thieves is working the city. Eddie Jiru is the latest victim. His wheel was taken from the street near the west side fire station. Reports of missing wheels have been made frequently for a couple of weeks.

W. D. Utter of the People's Drug Co., has recovered his Rambler, which was taken last week. It was brought back by a young man who said that he had mistaken it for a new wheel for which he had just traded his old one.

news of the drowning of Miss Lou Wheeler, August Rechele and Henry and Paul Weldmer while floating down

Capsizing of boats caused the fatalities.

PRINCE USOROFF
WILL RECOVER

Reported Killed by the Peasants, But
His Wounds May Not Prove Fatal.

St. Petersburg, July 28.—The Prince Usoroff, who was reported to have been killed in the Riazan district, near the place where L. N.
Gagarin, a former member of the Russian court, was recently severely wounded by peasants while going from the village of Karovin to his country home, is Prince V. P. Ur-soff. He was attacked by peasants and was severely wounded, but his injuries are not likely to prove fatal.
The affair rose over a quarrel over Prince Usoroff's valuable forests, which are protected from the trespassing of natives by non-Slavic guards.

Prince V. P. Ursoff is presumably of the same family as the prince,
who is the governor of Kishineff.
L. N. Gagarin was wounded with pitchforks and is suffering from blood poisoning.

sided peaceful relations between the

BETTER TODAY

with the Spirits of the Brokers on Change.

NO MORE FAILURES

It Is Now Thought That
Stocks Will Go Up
to a Normal Condition Again.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
New York, July 28.—Further progress toward the recovery in prices was made on the stock exchange this morning and at the present time it looks as if there would be no more failures of large firms today at least.

Good Feeling
The good feeling which set in yesterday about the close of the market continued today and on all sides
the word was heard that the bad failures had all come and the worst of the trouble was over for the present.

Values Go Up
The values for the first hour showed a generally higher range and old timers claim that this is a sure sign that the market will rise steadily from now on until the market level
is reached where it was some weeks ago.

WISCONSIN CHINAMEN
JUBILANT OVER DEATH

Celestial Masons Celebrate Because of the Killing of Man Who Elope
From Chicago.

Oshkosh, Wis., July 28.—The Chinese Masons of Oshkosh, Neenah, Appleton and Madison gathered in this city for the purpose of holding a jubilee to celebrate the execution in Mexico, presumably by members of the order, of Chin Mon Yuen, a Chicago celestial who eloped not long ago with the wife of his Chinese employer, Dr.
Don Sang. The couple were traced to New York and the man brought back.
He jumped his bail and all efforts of the police of Chicago and New York failed to locate the pair, who took with them $8,000 of Dr. Sang's money.

The lodges of Chinese Masons
throughout the world were notified,
and soon came the news that the male eloper had been killed in Yucatan and that the woman had been sent back to Chicago. Her husband in the meantime had died of a broken heart.
The local Chinamen do not state in so many words that Chin Mon Yuen
was killed by fellows of their order,
but they admit that his death was expected.

INVESTORS ARE OUT
VAST SUMS OF MONEY

Get-Rich-Quick Concern at New York
Is Said to Have Made $500,000
From Victims.

New York, July 28.—Inspector Mc-Clusky is getting to be of the opinion that the profits of the American Finance and Mortgage Company, a get-rich swindle at 112 Wall street, were nearer $500,000 than $100,000. Hundreds of letters have been received at the detective bureau from dupes in the rural districts and small cities.

One man in a small place near Stroudsburg, Pa., wrote about as follows:

"Will you inform me whether it is true that the American Finance and Mortgage Company has vanished? If this is true then I am a ruined man.
I don't just know how they found me out, but several months ago I began receiving alluring literature, and was finally influenced by these circulars to invest in the concern. I soon received such handsome profits that I went into it stronger and persuaded my wife to invest $1,000. In addition I told my friends of the enormous interest I was getting. They also invested."

The writer then gave the names of about twenty men who had lost $100 to $500 apiece, and adds: "But the worst feature of the whole thing is that the asylum for the blind and deaf gave a successful lawn fete which netted $157.80, and I, enthusiastic over my enormous interest, advised the treasurer of the asylum to invest $150 of the proceeds with the American Finance and Mortgage Company. About this time we all ceased to receive our interest."

Washington, July 28.—A cable-

having had a report of his government of the trouble that led to many

on the Isthmus.

It is thought that perhaps the present outbreak may be able to aid Colombian senators opposing the canal bill an opportunity to see the great benefits that would accrue from a supervision of the district as proposed.

ORDERS INVESTIGATION OF INDIANA PRISONS

Gov. Durbin Takes Action on Report of State Board of Charities
and Corrections.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 28.—Governor Durbin ordered Warden Reid,
chairman of the prison reform board,
to make an immediate investigation of the conditions prevailing in the jails
in Floyd, Lawrence, Clinton and Delaware counties.

The state board of charities and corrections strongly condemned the immoral conditions existing in the jails in the counties mentioned and laid the evidence of the conditions before the governor. In addition to the sweeping condemnation of the jails mentioned, "unfavorable reports" were made on the conditions in the jails of Henry, Jefferson, Wabash and Koscius-ko counties.

The reports to the state board of charities and corrections are not given out for publication, Secretary Butler of the board believing that no good purpose would be served by the publication of the particulars of the reprehensible incidents that have come under the notice of the board.

is to be made by the defense to discredit his testimony.

NEBRASKA CORN IS DOING WELL

Railway Reports Show Weather Favors Large Yield in State.

Omaha, Neb., July 28.—Reports at the various railway headquarters tell an encouraging story of the progress made by corn throughout the state during the last ten days. There has been what is generally known as "the best kind of corn weather." At some points it has been a trifle dry, but as a rule there has been sufficient rain to put the corn in prime condition.

Unless there is an early frost the crop will be not less than 85 per cent,
railway men declare.

The fate of wheat is settled by this time. The harvest in the southern part of the state has shown that the yield, while not as large as expected, will as a whole equal that of last year. The farmers are greatly pleased with the quality and are satisfied with the weight. The samples received in Omaha show a weight of from fifty-six to sixty-two pounds to the bushel.
The reports on oats indicate that the yield will be large and the quality good.

NO COOLIES IN SOUTH AFRICA

Secretary Chamberlain Will Consent if the Majority Demands It.

London, July 28.—During the course of the debate in the house of commons today on the second reading of the Transvaal loan bill Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, referring to the proposal to introduce Asiatic labor into South Africa, declared that so long as public opinion was hostile to the proposition he would not consent to it.

He believed however that opinion on the subject was changing, and if the majority demanded the importation of Indian coolies he would not object to it.

In regard to Chinese labor Mr.
Chamberlain said not a suggestion
looking to the employment of Chinese in South Africa had ever been officially brought to the notice of the Transvaal government.

BULGARIA PLEASED
BY THE CONSENT

Permission Given by England That They May Establish an Agency.

Sofia, Bulgaria, July 28.—The Bulgarian government had been informed that Great Britain would consent to the establishment of a Bulgarian diplomatic agency in London.
The news has been received with much satisfaction here, it being hoped that the new agency may enlist British sympathy for the Bulgarian cause.

FRAUD CHARGED
IN HONOLULU

Federal Grand Jury Will Investigate Actions of Members of the House.

Honolulu, July 28.—The federal grand jury will investigate Clerk Solomon Meheule and other officials of the house of representatives, who are accused of destroying the vouchers for the expenditures of the house during the past two sessions.
These expenditures amounted to $70,000, for more than the expense of any session except that of two years ago. The white members made an effort to have the vouchers made public, but the natives objected, and voted the proposal down. It is said the natives received large sums on dummy vouchers and that thousands were wasted. The federal statute contain severe penalties
for secreting or destroying vouchers.

CONVICTS KILL
PRISON GUARD

Folsom, California, Was
the Scene of a Daring Prison Delivery Yesterday.

POSSE AFTER THEM

The Warden and Two Other
Officials Were Taken
Along by the Men
as Hostages.

Folsom, Cal., July 28.—Thirteen convicts from the penitentiary here fought a desperate battle with the prison officials, and after killing one man and wounding two others escaped.
They started away from here with Overseer McDonough and a number of others as hostages and headed toward Bald mountain.

The latest reports are that a fight between the convicts and a posse has taken place near Pilot Hill in which Fred Howard was killed and A. Sea-blo wounded. Both are convicts.

The convicts are said to have scattered and are making for the surrounding woods. A company of militia from Placerville is en route to Pilot Hill and should now be on the immediate scene of the fight.

Human Shields.
Before the fight took place the convicts, who picked up a number of citizens en route and compelled them to join their party, had plundered the general merchandise store at Pilot Hill kept by S. Diehl.

The convicts in making their escape used several officials they had taken captive as shields to protect them from the fire of the galling gun towers stationed all about the prison grounds.

The fugitives threatened as they left that they would kill a hostage for every man of their number who was slain in efforts to recapture them.
Troops are still in pursuit.

Dead, Wounded and Captured.

The dead: Guard William Cotter.
The wounded: Turnkey J. Cochran, Guard W. C. Palmers.
The hostages: Tony Brown, stage
driver; Guy Jetter, foreman of quarry;
Guard John Klensendorf, General
Overseer McDonough, R. J. Murphy,
captain of the guard; Guard L. S.
Yertres, Warden Henry Wilkinson,
Harry Wilson, grandson of warden;
three men, names unknown.

The break for liberty was made at breakfast time and was started so suddenly that the prison officials were unable to offer adequate resistance.

Desperate Battle.

Breakfast had just been finished
when the convicts in the plot to escape made a dash for the office of the captain of the guard, R. J. Murphy.

There they seized Warden Wilkinson,
his grandson, Harry Wilkinson, Capt.
Murphy and several other officers and guards. A desperate fight took place.

The convicts were armed with knives and razors, and with these they assaulted Warden Wilkinson and his officers. The warden's clothing was slashed into shreds with a razor, but the blade did not touch the flesh.
Turnkey Cochran fought the convicts
with a chair, raining blows upon them right and left. Finally he was felled by a knife thrust in the back. Guard Cotter was cut in the abdomen, while Palmers was severely cut in the head.
The floor of the office was covered with blood.

Convicts Secure Arms.

The officers were outnumbered and soon were disarmed. Then, using the officers as shields, the convicts started for the armory post on the outskirts of the penitentiary grounds. They passed a galling gun on one of the walls, but the guards were afraid to fire on the convicts. When the armory was reached officers there attempted to interfere, but were overpowered.
Then, after further arming themselves with rifles, knives, pistols and ammunition, a dash for the country was made.

The convicts, armed with rifles,
marched on one either side of Warden Wilkinson, who was threatened with death if he made an attempt to escape, and the officers were told that if any of the pursuers took the life of one of their number that they would retaliate, life for life. At Mormon bridge, about a mile from the penitentiary, the warden, his grandson and Capt. Murphy were released and sent back. The others were marched along with the convicts.

The convicts went to a farmer's house, seized his four horse team and wagon, robbed the house of everything of value, took the farmer with them as a driver and headed for Bald mountain.

Folsom penitentiary is the prison without walls. It is situated in a rock amphitheater close to the American river, about twenty miles from Sacramento. The prisoners are locked up at night in the cellhouse, but during the day they labor in the stone quarries under the supervision of armed guards. On the hills surrounding the prison grounds are watch towers in which guards armed with galling guns
and rifles are stationed.

SPRING BROOK CIRCUS GROUNDS

YOUNGSTERS ADMIRE ANIMALS

Elephant Draws a Crowd—A Baby Baboon—Performers Eat Farewell Supper.

Twice a day since the show has been at Spring Brook, the elephant, "Barney" has been taken down to drink at the water tank, corner of McKee Boulevard and Eastern avenue. With him have been taken the camel and the moose, the three animals in the show that are not kept in cages. These occasions have been the delight of the small boys in that neighborhood, and the daily trips constitute quite a parade for the younger inhabitants of the southern division of the city. Barney is about fifteen years old and for his youthful age and size, being only about ten feet tall, he has not a particularly enviable record. At least one man has come to an untimely end through the uncertain disposition of this elephant, and several other keepers, and attendants have had narrow escapes. He is given as much oats and hay as he will eat and the cost of his food is a big item in the expense account of the menagerie. The oats are given to him loose on the ground yet he continues to skillfully pick them all up with his trunk. Yesterday, a small boy who was standing near the animal tent was heard to exclaim to his papa: "Look quick, at the snake coming out of the tent!" People standing near all turned excitedly, and observed the trunk of the elephant wobbling around from under the canvas.

The Last Supper
Supper call was sounded for the last time at five o'clock yesterday afternoon for the employees of the Forepaugh Wild West Show. The men had had nothing to eat since breakfast so were not slow to respond and soon the big mess tent was crowded with such a miscellaneous crowd of humanity as is seldom seen together. A great circus dining tent at this time it is a sight well worth seeing. Many nationalities talking in their different tongues and all talking at once to waiters hurrying back and forth with gallon cans of coffee and water, or heavy platters of meat and potatoes. Cries of "water up" or "coffee up" are heard from all sides, as various members of the crowd empty their big bowls and call for more. The kitchen is placed at one end of the large tent and here immense quantities of meat and potatoes are being cooked on the oven. At one side of this kitchen hang over the open fire containing gallons of coffee, and boiling water. The sheriff took care of the men yesterday and a bountiful repast was served, it tasted good to a hungry crowd anyway. All the dishes of the show are of blue and white granite ware. The tables, instead of having legs, are secured to the benches with rods set out in long rows, and have oil cloth covers. Each division of the men are assigned to a certain part of the tent.

A Baby Baboon
One of the most interesting of the animal groups in the show that will be left in Janesville is a full grown baboon, and its twelve weeks old baby. The mother is extremely watchful of its child and takes excellent care of it. The different branches of the monkey tribe seldom breed in captivity, so the young baboon at the Forepaugh show is quite a rarity. It is probably the only one of its kind in the United States at the present time.

There are several members of the feline tribe also stranded with the rest of the show. One male and three female lions two cubs only twelve weeks and three about nine months old. These chubby fellows are very playful but the keepers say that they cannot be trusted especially at feeding time. Then there is a fine specimen of puma, which is eight feet in length. To his division of the caged animals are fed but once a day and not at all on Sundays. This method is almost universally adopted among showmen, so far as the members of the cat family are concerned. On Mondays after the day of fasting, the lions are particularly fierce. Night before last many people in Spring Brook were awakened during the night by the roar of these animals in the nearby tent.

Two unusually large sized hyenas, occupy another cage and several species of deer take up three more of the big wagons. Besides these there is a happy family, consisting of a fox terrier and several monkeys.

ORDER HAS BEEN VERY GOOD

Few Disturbances Reported From Circus Hangers-on

Contrary to all expectations, no serious violations of order have resulted from the enforced stop of the circus troupe and hangers-on in this city. In one instance a couple of men planted themselves on a side porch and threatened to spend the night, but were induced to go by an exhibit of firearms. In another neighbors saw a man who appeared to be attempting to gain entrance to a house by a ladder. He was frightened away.

WANTED MISSING BRONCHO

D. E. Hubbard of Brooklyn Inspects Stock of Wild West

One of the visitors at the Spring Brook circus grounds was D. E. Hubbard of Brooklyn who had a broncho stolen some days ago and hoped that he might be able to identify it among the horses of the Wild West show.

In Justice Earle's Court: The case of Bliss vs. Bliss came up yesterday and was adjourned to July 30th. The case of J. F. Sweeney versus James J. Dalton action for damage was adjourned to August 3.

CAMPER CARRIES MUCH TOO MUCH

Should Leave Out Everything Unnecessary, Says a Writer in Collier's Weekly.

The primary mistake of the novice at camping is that he takes too much, says a writer in Collier's Weekly. The camper's wants are few, how few he realizes only after many trips. So each succeeding outing finds his outfit smaller, until finally he knows the exact limit of his needs. Remember always that many things make many cares and that camp life should be as far as possible a care-free life. For a permanent camp much more may be taken than in the case of the voyager, but even then the credit should be "held down." My cooking outfit for two consists of a frying pan with detachable handle, coffee pot, agate ware kettle, large spoon, hunting knife and fork. For our table service we carry three agateware plates or dishes about an inch and a half deep, two large cups of the same material, two knives two forks and two spoons. These are ample for all our needs and our menu is always a varied one. The plates are deep enough to hold soup or chowder, and thus serve us in double capacity, of plates and bowls. The kettle holds everything and in turn fits into a canvas bag. This allows of packing the cooking outfit in the duffle bag with no danger of blacking up other things.

The outfit should always include a small ditty-bag, containing thread, needles, pins, court plaster, buttons, stout twine and a small pair of scissors. A flask of good whisky should always be available in emergencies. Remember that in camp a doctor is seldom available and that in case of accident a strong stimulant may be the decisive factor between life and death. Further, let your medicine case contain quinine pills to break colds, and ward off malaria, sulphur-naphthol or some other antiseptic for wounds and scratches. Little things of this sort unlearned for being productive of much discomfort and sometimes serious consequences. To these add cholera cure for stomach and bowel cure, spirit of nitre, for fever and colic and to supplement the court plaster. These will cover all normal demands of the camp doctor.

So much for the outfit. In selecting a camp site, choose, if choice be granted you, ground that will have a slight slope away from the tent on all sides. Never pitch in a hollow or flat ground which catches the drainings from a watershed, however small. If your camp is to be permanent, dig a trench around the tent. To obviate the necessity of this in one night camps and still insure a dry camp in wet weather, I have had a four inch flap of heavy canvas added to the bottom of my shelter tent. This folds under and lies flat on the ground inside the tent. The rubber blankets are then spread so as to come well over the edges of the flap making it impossible for any water to get inside by running under. This simple little device has been tested time and again to my satisfaction, and comfort. The pointer of my good-natured mountaineer has also proved its worth a good many times. A camp pitched in the thicket spruce or other evergreens available is 50 per cent warmer and in wet weather is drier than if located in the open.

PASSION PLAY DRAWS A CROWD

Attraction at Athletic Park Pleases

Street Car Patrons—Continues This Week.

Scenes from the Passion Play at Oberammergau were reproduced by means of moving pictures at the ball park last evening. The pictures were clear and showed the Passion Play as it is in a way that is far more impressive and realistic than the idea conveyed by the ordinary individual picture. Mr. Law, of the Passion Play company explained in a brief way the origin of the noted play and the circumstances under which it is given. The lecturer has a pleasing voice and appearance, and a fine delivery, holding the attention of his audience from beginning to end.

BREWERY INSTALLS NEW MACHINERY

Keg Washing Machine Put in at the South Side Plant, is an Ingenious Device.

A new keg washing machine, the only one of its kind in the city, has recently been installed at the Buob brewery. There are four wheels placed near together in the form of a square. On these the keg is placed. The wheels are adjustable and can be moved so as to fit any sized keg, from the smallest to the largest size used in a brewery. These wheels are so connected with the power that they turn in the same direction and revolve the keg at a rapid rate. Four big brushes, shaped like scrubbing brushes, are so placed as to touch the entire outside surface of the keg.

The first part of the washing process is to place the keg in a large tank where it slowly fills with water. It is then automatically lifted out of the vat by means of metal arms and carried to the wheels before mentioned. The rapid revolving churns the water inside and from the wheels the outer surface. From the wheels the keg is taken to another apparatus where a strong sprinkling arrangement rinses out the interior and then it is cleaned and ready to be refilled with beer. This apparatus refilled with beer.

NINE HUNDRED LICENSES PAID

Almost a Thousand Barbers Have Complied with the New Law.

Nine hundred and fifteen barbers of the state have taken out licenses under the new barber law, according to Secretary M. H. Whitaker of the state board of barber examiners. Of this number 325 are from Milwaukee.

Mr. Whitaker was in Milwaukee yesterday to place registration blanks on file in various shops throughout that city for the convenience of those who want to take out licenses.

No further examinations will be held until some time in October, because of the immense amount of work the board has ahead of it taking care of the applicants from the state. The sanitary rules governing shops probably will not be prepared for two months yet.

Speaking of the proposition made by some Milwaukee barbers to take the matter into court for the purpose of testing the validity of the law, Mr. Whitaker said that he did not believe that such a thing would be done, and also he was confident the law was constitutional. The best lawyers in the legislature had pronounced the law constitutional, while none had the temerity to urge that it violated any provision of the constitution. He was sure the courts would sustain the law.

ELMS PRESENT BAD PROBLEM

BLEEDING HAS BEEN DIFFICULT TO PREVENT.

THE USUAL REMEDIES FAILED

Appeal to Government Authorities Gives But Little More Satisfaction.

Bleeding elms prevail in various parts of the city and home owners have in many cases been unable to stop the sap dripping from severed branches or prevent the overflow of cavities where limbs had been removed years before. It may be recognized, perhaps, that the trees are really in no immediate danger from the loss of sustaining fluid but it is likewise understood that the internal decay can in time become a serious menace. But even if the affected tree be safe for an indefinite period, if even its permanence be not threatened to any appreciable extent yet he who takes pride in his home and its environment, who wants everything kept neatly, regards with dissatisfaction a limby, maggoty, discolored streak, a yard long down the side of some conspicuous tree due to the exuding sap; or if the dripping be upon the lawn, he would like to remove the yellow spot which the fermenting fluid has burned as effectively as if it were carbolic acid.

Painting the Scars
Usually it has been deemed precautions enough to prevent a tree wound from bleeding to paint the scar as soon as the limb is severed but such a simple remedy often proves unavailing. Even when the wound has been painted and later, covered thoroughly with grafting wax, the bleeding has continued unabated, the drip persisting till the grass below is spongy, seared and foul.

In one case, where, years ago, a limb, two inches in diameter, had been removed and the subsequent decay had receded into the tree, causing a pocket several inches deep, the cavity was burned out with a kerosene rag to kill the insects and microbes and also to dry the rotting interior, then packed tightly with putty; but the leakage was as great as before. That was two summers ago. Last year, the hole was again cleaned, all the decay that could be reached was removed. Then a plumber's blower was procured and the wound inside and around the edges sealed, as a wound would be cauterized. This treatment had been recommended by a veteran horticulturist of sixty years, who said it had proved efficacious in stubborn cases. The cavity was again filled—this time with grafting wax driven and packed very tightly.

Still the sap seeped out and the almy disfigurement was there as before. The university authorities at Madison were appealed to. What had been done was all or more than they could have advised, so they frankly confessed. Next, enlightenment was sought for the Bureau of Forestry of the United States department of agriculture, and, though a like confession comes from that source, yet an interesting suggestion is made that the hole be plugged with a wooden, tar-covered stopper. The letter is appended for the information of all who may be troubled with bleeding trees.

"Without an examination on the ground of the elm to which you refer I fear it will not be possible to give you the best advice as to what should be done to stop the bleeding," writes George B. Sudworth, the chief of the bureau. "I am familiar with the trouble to which the elms are subject. It is possible that there is an opening in the trunk somewhere above the point at which the bleeding takes place. Cases of this kind occur. In such instances, the upper hole may receive the water which soaks down through the rotting tissue of the trunk and out the lower hole. There are, however, cases in which the trees bleed persistently from only one hole.

A Last Resort
"It would seem that you have done about all that could be done to stop the dripping from your tree. If the hole is from two to four inches in diameter, or less, I believe that it should be possible to plug it so tightly with wood as to prevent further leakage. To do this, the hole must be very carefully rimmed out to a uniform diameter and tightly fitted with a plug of oak, or some other hard and lasting wood, driving it in so well that it will stop the exit of all water. The edges of the hole and the plug should be thoroughly coated with tar or paint, preferably tar to prevent decay. The plug should be driven in or cut off a little deeper than the surface of the bark. If the living bark and wood around the wound are in good condition, the hole should, in the course of a few years be closed over by new growth. This will prevent any further leakage."

DRESSED THE PIPE IN TISSUE PAPER

Unique Gowns Made at a Porch Party—Prizes Given to the Most Successful.

Porch parties are now the vogue. A clever hostess at a lake resort recently sent out invitations for a "Polly Piper" party. The cards gave no clew to the nature of the affair, and each guest was left to wonder at what a Polly Piper might be.

When the guests assembled on the wide porch they found it set with low tables and chairs of all sorts and conditions. Gay cushions promised comfort, plants and hanging baskets offered sweetness, but no "Polly Piper" was in evidence.

On the small tables an array of clay pipes were spread, and new and sweet smelling. Were the fair guests invited to a smoker?

The appearance of the hostess loaded down with sheaves of tissue and crepe paper of every imaginable shade, with scissors and mullage bottles relieved their perplexity. When she announced that each guest was to make her own "Polly Piper" there was an instant babble of questions and exclamations.

Each guest was given a pipe with instructions that she was to dress it in forty-five minutes, at the end of which time prizes were to be awarded to the two whose work should be judged best.

Each one might select three strips of paper from which to fashion a costume. To make the doll complete each one must have a face drawn also.

The guests went immediately to work, selecting their papers with reference to the character which their particular doll was to assume. Gray and white papers were chosen for the doll which was to don Quaker garb; navy blue, and red for the Salvation army girl; blue and white for the yachting costume while the gayest colors of the table went to rig out a veritable Topsy. Needles, thread and thimbles were furnished, and paste for those who preferred to use it.

At the end of the time allowed the dolls were required to be handed in for criticism. There were babies in long dresses ballet girls in short, full skirts, summer girls with frons ruffs of drapery, full ruffs of softly crumpled paper and picture hats, nurse maids—indeed all kinds of dolls were represented.

But the first prize was given to "Little Red Riding Hood" whose costume was not only well made, but whose face had been drawn upon paper and fastened over the open end of the pipe, doing away with the little "knob" nose which every other doll possessed.

The award of prizes was followed by the serving of luncheon, and the affair was voted one of the most successful of the season.

SPOONER'S VIEWS ON THE MARKET

He Does Not Believe the Present Outlook Is At All Discouraging.

A New York dispatch says John C. Spooner, United States senator from Wisconsin, was one of the conspicuous men in the Wall street district yesterday. He spent a good part of the day at the offices of Flower & Co.

"The prospect is not as discouraging as it was in the morning," Senator Spooner said to the Press correspondent. "Several failures that were expected did not occur, and the chances seem to be that the firms will pull through."

"I do not see why there should be business depression now, as the country is in good condition apparently. I have not been to my home in the west for a month, but the situation there was good, indeed."

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday with scattered local thunderstorms.

CANADA'S RAILROAD ENTER PRIZE

Canada has set herself a task of stupendous magnitude in the building of a new trans-Canada line, which is to reach from ocean to ocean, through a region far north of the existing systems. The scheme is as yet only tentative, but there seems to be no doubt that eventually the railroad will be completed, says the New York Financial. Opening, as it will, a vast area susceptible to the highest agricultural development and possessing inexhaustible resources of timber, minerals, and fishery products, the trans-Canada route as it has been named, is a most important project, and partakes of the nature of empire building on a large scale. It is Canada's curse to have achieved the title of "Our Lady of the Snows." Of course the expression is figurative, but it has been accepted too literally by a vast number of people both in the United States and abroad. As a matter of fact Canada is no more a land of snow—to the extent that agriculture is impeded—than the northern United States. The isothermal line shows a variation running far to the north, even of the projected railway line, and wheat growing can be made profitable in regions as yet scarcely explored. The development of the Northwestern Canada within recent years is an instance of the possibilities which Canada holds as a factor in the world's commercial and agricultural development.

The latest railroad survey, as already stated, runs to the far north. The eastern terminus by existing connections will be Quebec but the main line will tap the Lake St. John's country at Chicoutimi, pass near the source of the St. Maurice river, possibly touch James Bay, the southern extremity of Hudson Bay and thence in a direct line westerly north of the Height of Land, making connection with the Canadian Northern on the Saskatchewan, with a ranch from the Albany river to Winnipeg. The western terminus will be at Port Simpson. The new line will not only be the shortest across the American continent; it will also be more nearly level than any other, and will cross the Rocky mountains at an elevation considerably less than 3,000 feet. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $100,000,000 to be borne partly by the government and partly by the existing lines.

Canada is only now awakening to the magnitude of her future destiny. She stands, as one writer well puts it, in the position occupied by the United States when a pioneer nation, with the exception that she can command the equipment and resources of the twentieth century. Her domain is vast, and only awaits the quickening touch of railway facilities to assume the value of the wheat and grain areas of our Western states. She will have to be reckoned with, for her raw materials are quite as extensively diversified and valuable as those of this country. Canada's future will be largely governed, however, by her financial and tariff policy. The old fashioned element which clings blindly to the Cobden free trade policy has been in the ascendancy for years, but there are unmistakable signs that newer and more aggressive blood, as represented by the younger generation, is rapidly taking a stand in favor of protective measures. In other words, Canada has watched the progress of the United States, and comparing the wide contrast in achievement, the lesson has not been lost. Governmental policy in the sense that Canada is the colony of a mother nation, will have little to do with immigration drawbacks, for the reason that her connection with Great Britain is nominal, rather than actual, and will become more shadowy with the lapse of years.

The present ambition of Canada is to enter the list of great exporting nations. She already sends millions of dollars' worth of grain to Europe, but her trade balances are consumed by her imports. For the twelve months just ended British North America purchased from the United States $125,000,000 of products, while this country's imports from the north amounted to $55,000,000.

But Canada needs population. Her seven million people are scattered along the edge of a domain similar to the United States in magnitude, and there is little prospect that the influx of immigration now in evidence will continue unless new territory is opened to civilization. Therefore, the latest enterprise, to which the Dominion seems willing to commit her resources, is of vast importance, and viewing the matter from an American standpoint, of incalculable good in every way.

PRESS COMMENT

Milwaukee Sentinel: The Indianaapolis News, after taking stock in the local situation, mournfully opines that beauty in on the wane. Now, let The News man visit Milwaukee for a week or so, and cheer up.

Milwaukee Free Press: If accidents happen as frequently during the yacht races proper as they have while the preliminary trials have been made, the fate of the cup may depend on a rivet or a line of a gaff. Are not the yachts a bit too fine?

Eau Claire Leader: Great is Wisconsin! Its streams produce pearls an inch in diameter. The hen lays eggs nine inches in circumference, and its fields produce strawberries, weighing an ounce and a half each. Where else in these United States can these prodigies be duplicated?

Appleton Post: We are surprised at the ignorance of the Milwaukee Free Press in confessing that it did not know that Editor Hicks of The Oshkosh Northwestern had a hyperbole. He has got two of 'em in fact. Col. at one end and L. D. at the other. While the Free Press is not distinguished for making the amende honorable, we expect it will do so in this case.

Hudson Star Times: An Oshkosh man is mistaking a woman—not his wife—for a bird in his cherry tree, peppered her with a shotgun. She at once enacted the Zacheus act but was not killed by the fall nor the charge. It is not narrated whether the old nimrod mistook her for an ostrich or for a bird of paradise, but it is understood the governor's warden's are out after him for shooting game out of season.

THAT HE WHO READS MAY RUN.

That woman who looks particularly unconscious is often wondering what you are thinking of her.

After all, one's affection for a husband or wife is an acquired taste—you didn't always care for them.

Suppose for an instant that woman could see herself as others see her—what a rush there'd be for Erect Form Corsets.

These Sheridans and Paul Reveres are all very well, but they couldn't have succeeded unless their horses had been good.

A man hates to lose at any time, but a woman always consoles herself with the thought that she might have won if she'd "really and truly" tried.

GIANT TROLLEY PLAN ANNOUNCED

CHICAGO PAPER LAYS OUT ROUTE TO MADISON.

PROMOTERS ENTHUSIASTIC

Say That the Proposed Routes Will All Be Running Within a Year.

Close on the heels of the announcement last week that Chicago is to be connected with Indianapolis by an electric line, in fact, information leaked out today that Madison, Wisconsin, and the intervening cities and villages are to be linked by a similar system and that another high speed line is contemplated to connect Galena, Ill., and the intervening territory with Chicago, says a Chicago paper.

Freight Roads
Over the major portion of the latter freight will be carried, at least from the river to Winnebago where a spur will extend to Byron, affording a point where an operating agreement, with the Chicago Great Western will complete the service. At Elgin connection will be made with the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago Railway company, affording through electric passenger service to Chicago. This new road, the outgrowth of the Rockford and Interurban Railway company, is already under construction, with a view to connecting Freeport and intervening cities with Chicago immediately through the proposed construction of a road to fill one of the two existing gaps between Chicago and Madison.

The Routes
A large portion of the route to Madison is completed. The Metropolitan "L" and the Aurora, Elgin & Chicago carry passengers to Elgin speedily and through a territory that is attracting heavy traffic because of its scenic beauty. The gap between Elgin and Belvidere remains to be filled. Interests at both this end and the other are ready to advance the necessary money and the connection will follow shortly, it is said. At Belvidere the Rockford and Interurban is already in operation as far as Rockford and is pushing work westward to Freeport with the ultimate purpose of reaching Galena and the Mississippi. Farson, Leach & Co. are among the principal owners. John Farson of that firm, who is vice-president of the corporation, returned today from an automobile trip of inspection over the right of way. He is an enthusiast over the possibilities.

Last Links
The Aurora, DeKalb & Rockford railway is organizing and already arrangements have been made to build in a northwesterly direction as far as DeKalb. If, as the name implies, the project is pushed through to Rockford, it will afford a connection to Janesville and Madison and tap the surrounding country, affording patrons an opportunity to choose at its terminus whether the Joliet trolley or the Aurora, Elgin & Chicago third-rail system will convey them through to Chicago.

ARE PLAYING AT THE FOREST CITY

Mississippi Golf Club is Playing Second Match in Home and Home Series.

Rockford and Janesville are battling on Illinois greens today. The interurban special car leaving here at about 8:20 this morning bore a party of about fifty members of the Bower City club to Rockford, where they arrived at about ten o'clock. Of the number about twenty-five took part in the match, which began at about half past one o'clock. In the party were Messrs. Mark Bostwick, H. Goldin, G. Baumann, F. J. Baker, O. Sutherland, Leo Brownell, C. Schaller, Chas. Achterberg, H. H. Bliss, R. W. Hill, Chester Morse, H. H. McKinney, Charles Dunn, Graham Galbraith, Chas. Tallman; Messrs. and Mesdames J. P. Baker, H. S. McGiffin, Wilson Lane, H. G. Carter, F. C. Grant, C. C. MacLean, E. H. Peterson, H. H. McNamara, P. L. Myers, J. D. Brownell, Charles Bostwick, C. H. Gage, Pliny Norcross; Mesdames W. G. Wheeler, W. W. Watt, Fred Howe, T. O. Howe, F. H. Jackman, George Thomas; Misses Isabel Smith, Wilma McGiffin, Mabel Jackman, Helen Nash, and Belle MacLean.

ROCKFORD IS AHEAD ON THE FIRST ROUND IN MATCH PLAY

Golf Play Between Bower City Team and Illinoisans Starts Disastrously.

The cards of the players who have finished the first round are as follows:

C. Schaller played Stewart, three up.
McGiffin played Tritle, two up.
Dunn played Kelley, all even.
Carter played Haines, two down.
Goldin played Saxby, three down.
Bostwick played Nelson, three down.
Hill played F. Haines, all even.
Bliss played Crawford, two down.
Galbraith played Hemming, all even.
F. Schaller played Barnes, five down.

A stock holders meeting of the Delavan Assembly will be held at the grounds this afternoon. A number of Janesville people have votes and the Y. M. C. A. band also has an interest. This meeting will be for the purpose of branching out, making improvements and increasing capital stock. The grounds this year are said to be more beautiful than ever before. The assembly is having a successful season.

ZIMMERMAN MURDER MAY BE DENIED

Is Thought Joyce Will Disclaim All Knowledge—Police Are Confident of His Guilt.

From statements made by Tom Joyce the alleged murderer of Herman Zimmermann, it is considered probable that he will make a general denial of all the charges against him. The police, however, say that they were confident that the state had a strong case against him even before death had resulted from Zimmermann's wounds. Joyce is still confined in the county jail, $5,000 bail being a large sum to secure when such a crime is involved. T. S. Nolan will probably defend Joyce when the case comes to a trial, which will probably be in the Rock county circuit court, although the examination will be held in the municipal court. The prosecution is in the hands of District Attorney Jackson.

TONIC FINDS READY SALE

Fred Wetmore of This City Has an Excellent Preparation on Market.
Fred Wetmore, who for the past eight years has been engaged in the drug business in this city, is now placing on the market a hair tonic and dandruff cure that promises to find ready sale in all parts of the country. All of the local drug stores have placed orders with Mr. Wetmore and the orders that are daily coming from prominent wholesale firms clearly indicate that Mr. Wetmore has a remedy on the market that will fill a long felt want. Two years ago was consumed by Mr. Wetmore in getting ready this preparation for the market. The cures that have already been accomplished by its use is conclusive proof that the remedy is all and more than the manufacturers claim for it. Mr. Wetmore will soon send salesmen on the road and it will only be a matter of a short time before this remedy will do its share towards advertising the Bower City from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Mr. Wetmore has a host of friends in all sections of the county who will congratulate him upon his success.

SUNSTROKE KILLS VALUABLE HORSE

People's Ice Company Lost Animal Today That They Valued at $200.

The People's Ice company today lost a horse valued at $200 and it is thought that a sunstroke caused its death. The horse this morning showed but slight signs of being ill but towards noon it grew gradually weaker when death relieved it of its suffering. Henry Tall of the People's Ice company said: "We never knew of the horse being ill until towards noon and I believe that the terrific heat of the morning caused its death."

GUNS FIRED ON PUBLIC STREETS

RIVERVIEW PARK YOUNGSTERS HAVE MUCH FUN.

POLICE TAKE HAND IN FROLIC

Sons of George Richards Play Wild West; and Disturb Some of the Neighbors.

When Mr. and Mrs. Richards departed for England a few weeks ago they left behind them two youngsters who can upon occasion become decidedly obnoxious. Last evening one of the occasions arrived and the result was an early morning call by the police today and the confiscation of a couple of shotguns which the lads used with more enthusiasm than discretion last night.

Were Playing Circus
Emulating the dashing gun shots of the Wild West performers the two lads who are ten years of age or less, secured a couple of shotguns which were in the house. They wandered forth upon the streets, and soon after residents of Riverview Park, where the boys live, were startled by the sound of explosions. One man bears witness that he heard shot flying through corn fields. Fortunately no persons obstructed the paths of the gun contents.

Police Take Guns
Complaint to the police followed as a matter of course, and this morning Chief Hogan drove out to the house and took the guns into safe keeping until the parents return to their home from their European trip. Until a few days ago the boys have lived on a farm, and they failed to realize that certain privileges which are permitted the country lad are refused him when living in the more closely populated sections of the state.

EDGAR R. HYDE DIED YESTERDAY

The End Came After a Short Illness, at the Home of George D. Simpson.

Janesville has lost one of its most popular young men. Edgar A. Hyde passed away at five-thirty o'clock last evening at the home of his brother-in-law George D. Simpson, 252 South Third street after a short illness. Mr. Hyde was one of the promising young business men of the city and during his residence here he made many friends who will greatly mourn his loss. Deceased was born at Massena N. Y. April 30 1863 and came to this city about fifteen years ago. He was first employed by Galbraith Bros. where he remained for a number of years. He then started work at the First National Bank as book-keeper which position he held up to the time of his death. On June 25 1890 he was married to Fannie Louise Simpson whose death occurred August 1899. A little daughter Lucile Hyde survives him besides his mother Mrs. H. D. Hyde of Massena, two sisters Miss Belle W. Hyde of Massena, and Mrs. Nellie H. Britton of Poughkeepsie, and two brothers Charles H. Hyde and George H. Hyde of Watertown, N. Y. Mr. Hyde was much thought of by the officers of the First National Bank and his sudden death will cause great sorrow there. As a member of the Oriental Lodge, No. 22, Knights of Pythias, the Rock County Caledonian society and the Mississippi Golf club he was held in high regard by his friends and associates.

The funeral will be held from the home of his mother-in-law Mrs. M. E. St. John at three o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Interment will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, July 28, 1863.—The belief is gaining ground that the New York riot had another purpose than to prevent the draft. It is believed that it was designed by its leaders to aid Lee's invasion.

The total number of deaths last week in New York city was 663. Of this aggregate 106 deaths are officially reported to have been occasioned by violence during the reign of the mob.

Washington, July 28.—Information received today shows that Lee's army under Longstreet, Hill and Ewell passed through Chester Gap Thursday and Friday and are now at and south of Culpepper. Buford's cavalry opposed them and had to fall back, but hung in their rear, capturing prisoners and cattle.

Home on Furlough.—Wheeler S. Bowen, D. R. Brand, Jerome Howard and Bradley Austin, of the 12th Wisconsin battery, arrived home to-day from Vicksburg on a short furlough.

LAW DECISIONS FOR LAYMEN

Recent Court Rulings That Will Interest the Busy Reader Very Much.

Vicious Dogs.
The owner of a vicious dog known to have a propensity to bite, is not liable for injuries inflicted upon a person, where the dog was sufficiently locked into the building, and escaped during the night by gnawing away the woodwork about the lock, without the owner's knowledge. The right of man to keep a vicious dog for the protection of his house, and property is conceded. He is, of course, bound to exercise a degree of care, commensurate with the danger to others which will follow the dogs escape from his control. 54 Atlantic Rep (N. J. Judge Gummere) 237.

Divorce.
A husband, who requires his wife to live with him in the home of his mother, who treats the wife with extreme cruelty cannot defend an action for divorce brought by the wife on the ground that he himself was not guilty of the acts of cruelty complained of. By allowing third parties to abuse and mistreat his wife, and refusing to provide her with another home, he becomes legally answerable for the cruel treatment. 85 Northwestern Rep. (Nebraska, Judge Duffie) 781.

Taxation.
Where the facts tend to show that the purchase of United States bonds by a bank was for the purpose of evading taxation, the bonds being purchased immediately before and sold immediately after the date as of which its property was listed for taxation, and never being taken into possession, but left on special deposit in a distant bank—the transaction may be regarded as fraudulent, and the bank be assessed for the amount of money invested in such bonds. 67 Northwestern Rep 777.

Contract With Adopted Child.
A father, by an oral agreement, surrendered his child, who was the child of a deceased wife, to his father-in-law and permitted him to adopt the infant as his daughter, she to take his name, and he to have the sole benefit of her society and services, in consideration of which he agreed that she should have one-quarter interest in all his estate. Held, that the adopted daughter could not, after the death of her grandfather, who gave his property to his wife, maintain an action for specific performance of the contract, and to have the will declared void as against her alleged one-quarter interest. 67 Northwestern Rep. (New York, Judge O'Brien) 803.

Employer's Duty.
The Colorado Court of Appeals, in the recent case of Holshouser vs. Denver Gas and Electric company, that where an employer had knowledge when he hired an employee that the latter was in danger of being injured by striking employees, and the employer had no knowledge of the fact, and was shot by striking employees after having been employed about 18 days, the employer's failure to give the employee warning was actionable negligence. The master is bound to furnish his servant a safe place in which to work, and this includes not only buildings, tools and appliances free from defects, but freedom from interference from outsiders.

Witness Wants a Guard.
Lexington, Ky., July 28.—Unless Gov. Beckham instructs that troops be assigned to protect Capt. B. J. Ewen, witness for the prosecution in the case of Curtis Jett, there is every probability that the case will have to be continued.

Seek Capt. Howard's Slayer.
New York, July 28.—The police of California have stretched a probe across the continent to learn the circumstances of the murder of Captain Thomas Howard of Victoria, B. C., who was found at Berkeley, Cal.

Smith Claims Honor.
New Orleans, La., July 28.—J. C. Smith of New Orleans, and not the United States yellow fever commission, is the actual discoverer of the yellow fever parasite, according to a claim made by Mr. Smith.

Britons After Grizzlies.
New York, July 28.—Sir Berkeley Sheffield, Cuthbert James, Capt. H. H. S. Clay and Capt. H. Grant Thorold, English hunters of big game, are here on the way to the Rocky mountains to shoot grizzlies.

Titus In Rare Form

Oarsman Not Discouraged by Being Barred From Henley Rowing Gossip.

Constance S. Titus, the champion American single sculler, whose entry to the English Henley regatta was refused by the stewards of the British rowing organization controlling the contests, is confident that he could have won the Diamond sculls this year had he been permitted to compete. Titus covered the Henley course a year ago in time that was several seconds better than that recorded by the winner this year and under conditions less favorable. Titus, however, is determined that his disappointment in not being allowed to row at Henley shall not affect his performances on this side of the water. His ambition is to capture all the single sculling prizes in sight in regattas over here, and from the way in which he has started to corral medals, cups and banners he bids fair to make a large addition to his already large collection ere the snow flies.

Titus says that he is in the best form of his career and that he feels fit to row any distance any time against any person.

The Henley regatta is strictly an amateur tournament, and the ruling as to an amateur oarsman is much more strict than in this country. The English definition of an amateur requires that an oarsman shall never have worked as an artisan for support, even for a day; he must never have been employed in the construction of boats; he must never have been an instructor in boating or athletic sports of any character, and he must never have competed with professional oarsmen.

The requirement regarding foreign entries is strict. Applications for admission must be filed by foreign crews and individuals three months in advance of the date required for entries of English crews. This is to give the regatta committee time to verify the affidavits made by those desiring to enter that they are in true amateur standing. The rule was adopted in 1878, when it was learned that one member of a four oared crew from this country who had entered the Henley had worked for a living. The Englishmen were determined that such a slip should not be repeated.

Of course the gatherings at Henley are similar to those at the college

games and athletic sports in this country—hosts of pretty girls in gay attire, sporting their favorite's colors; as many athletic young men, equally loyal. But there is one marked feature absent from similar American scenes—the large number of middle aged and elderly gentlemen. The Englishman does not, as every one knows, give up his fondness for athletics when he leaves college. He can sit in a boat as skillfully at fifty as he could at twenty-five, and he is much in evidence at Henley.

A Second Billy Sunday.
Roy Clark, the collegian who played right in twenty games for the New York Nationals last year, is now an evangelist.

Hahn's Relapse.
Frank ("Noodles") Hahn's pitching for Cincinnati this season has not been up to the standard of former years.

TROTTERING AND PACING.
Scott McCoy thinks that Joymaker, 2:15 1/4, will be a winner in the grand circuit this year. He has already trotted a mile in 2:13.

A full sister to Nathan Straus, 2:05 1/4, is in training at Belmont park, Philadelphia. She is being trained by Charley Meyers.

Tom Erwin is training a stable of trotters and pacers at Joplin, Mo. Tom raced Big Timber, 2:12 1/4, and several other good ones.

Although the season is quite young as yet, two drivers were recently fined $25 each by the judges at the Rockport (O.) meeting for pulling.

J. J. Middleby, Jr., of Lexington, Mass., has quite a slick pacer in Hobbs, 2:10 1/4. Recently he stepped a quarter in 30 seconds.

The famous old pacing mare, Moonstone, 2:03, will be prepared by Will Jones of Wellsville, N. Y., with a view to lowering her record.

Author's, 2:14 1/4, that is being trained by Alta McDonald at Albany, is owned by H. L. Handy of Springfield, Mass.

Black Lady, 2:14 1/4; Nonamie, 2:27 1/4; Kingma, 2:22 1/4, and a green mare by Mark Strus are in the stable of George Loomis at Hamline, Minn.

SHERIFF KNOWS LEADERS OF MOB

MEANS TO SECURE WARRANTS

Declares Political Considerations Will Have No Effect on His Purpose to Mete Out Punishment to Those Who Violated the Law.

Danville, Ill., July 28.—With the investing militia force reduced to 100 men perfect quiet has been restored at Danville. The citizens have set about the investigation of the outbreak with a view to a wholesale prosecution of the leaders of the mob whose work resulted in the killing of two persons and the wounding of a score of others.

Thirty members of the local bar association, Supreme Court Judge Jacob W. Wilkin presiding, adopted resolutions deploring the tragedy that has disgraced the city and urging that the lynchers immediately be brought to justice. At the same time Sheriff Whitlock has declared that he will be ready in a few days to swear out warrants for the arrest of fifty citizens who were foremost in the storming of the county jail. He has the names of thirty at present, twenty belonging to the "sore finger brigade," who held the rail used as a battering ram along which Sheriff Whitlock fired a riot gun.

Depends on Sheriff.
The project, however, for an immediate and sweeping inquiry into the outrage is so obstructed by personal and political considerations that the community probably will have to rely upon the determination of Sheriff Whitlock to bring the offenders to justice.

Sheriff Whitlock, when interviewed, said: "When I raised my hand to take the oath to serve as sheriff I meant it. Some say I am killed politically by stopping the mob. What do I care whether I am killed politically? I tried to do my duty, and would rather have the good opinion of a few good citizens than the backing of a thousand of the rabble. I don't think there will be any more trouble, but I promise to give a double dose the next time."

Knows the Leaders.
"About the lynchers I mean to do my duty as I see it. I know the leaders. My duty is to have them arrested and held to the grand jury and I am going to do it. I shall swear out the warrants before five justices of the peace as soon as possible. The wounded will be arrested, the evidence being on them. There are others whom I and other reputable citizens, who stood by me, can identify to the number of fifty. The charge will be rioting, the punishment for which is an indeterminate sentence in the penitentiary."

Sheriff Whitlock two years ago was a cab driver and he sang himself into office as a member of the "Hungry Holler Glee Club."

Excitement May Kill Woman.
As a result of the excitement of the storming of the jail, in which she took part, Mrs. Whitlock, wife of the sheriff, has been taken seriously ill, and now is feared to be on the verge of death. The news of Mrs. Whitlock's illness has added to the determination to mete out prompt punishment to the members of the mob.

Most of the terrorized negroes have come back from their flight and returned peacefully to work.

HAY FEVER FOR 27 YEARS

Well Known New England Woman Cured by Hyomel—Cure Was Lasting.

The thousands of discouraged people who dread summer's approach because they think that hay fever cannot be avoided, will read with interest and gratitude the following statement from Helen F. Williams of Mansfield, Mass.

"For 27 years from the month of August until heavy frost I have been afflicted with hay fever, growing worse and worse each year, and of late years I was unable to attend to my work during that period. "Last summer I fortunately gave Hyomel a trial and am happy to say that it entirely cured me and I have had no return of the affliction since. "This letter is one of the many that have come to the proprietors of Hyomel, and the results following this treatment have been so wonderful that it is proposed at the annual convention of hay fever sufferers to recommend Hyomel to all who are susceptible to the disease.

Hyomel is a treatment for hay fever that combines the latest discoveries of science and the best of common sense. Knowing that a change of climate was the only way in which relief could be obtained, the evolution of Hyomel naturally resulted. By breathing its germ killing and healing balsams, any one can have, at any moment of the day, either in their home, the office or the factory, a climate like that of the White Mountains or other health resorts, where hay fever is unknown.

People's Drug Co. agree to refund the money to any hay fever sufferer who uses Hyomel if it does not give satisfaction.

UNCERTAIN AS TO CANAL TREATY

HAD THREATENED TO SECEDE

Rather Than Risk the Chance of Having the Route Abandoned Citizens Favored Setting Up an Independent Government.

Washington, July 28.—This government remains in the dark as to whether the overthrow of the state government of Panama was a purely local disturbance or whether it will have a bearing on the canal project. The opinion was expressed by an official who has considerable knowledge of Isthmian and Colombian politics that the government at Bogota was at the bottom of the overthrow of the liberal government in order to get a firmer hold on the isthmus, because of the feeling of unrest in the department of Panama over the uncertainty of the canal treaty.

Want the Canal.
There have been hints that if the canal treaty failed at Bogota the people of Panama, rather than lose the chance of having the United States build the canal, would secede from Colombia, set up a government of their own and ask this government to treat with them. Not a line has come from Consul General Guder as to the political effect of the revolution.

Message From Consul.
Mr. Guder sent two cable messages. The first said:
"Last night about 10 o'clock soldiers, headed by the commander in chief, searched the governor's house. The governor escaped. Tried to reach the consulate, but intercepted. Took refuge at the house of an American. Streets lined with soldiers. Arrested secretary of state, chief of police and departmental employees. Department has money."

Mr. Guder further reported that "trouble arose because of the failure of the governor to pay national troops. Troops were withdrawn at 2 o'clock this morning."

May Send Man-of-War.
In his second message Mr. Guder said that the governorship had been "tendered" but refused, and that the situation was grave. Mr. Guder did not say to whom the governorship had been tendered.

When the state and navy departments closed it had not been determined to send a man-of-war to either Panama or Colon. "We have no ship nearer Panama than San Francisco," it was said, "and none nearer Colon than Guantanamo or Trinidad. A man-of-war will be sent if the American consul general asks for one for the protection of American interests or for keeping transit open."

Rich of Illinois, extradited in 1900 from this city to Mexico and sentenced to serve fourteen years in a Mexican prison for the murder of her husband at Juarez, has been released by the Supreme court of the state of Chihuahua on the ground of insufficient evidence to convict. Mrs. Rich was convicted of the murder of John D. Rich, who was killed April 27, 1899. The case attracted a great deal of attention owing to the fact that Mrs. Rich was the first person extradited under the new treaty and the first American woman ever surrendered to Mexico for punishment.

NATIONAL FOOD LAW REQUIRED

Commissioners Agree That Congress Should Act On The Question—States Not Uniform.

J. Q. Emery, dairy and food commissioner of Wisconsin, has returned from the meeting of the national association of dairy and food commissioners in St. Paul. He says the meeting was the largest of its kind yet held and was productive of large good that will be more apparent in results in the future. Dr. Richard Fisher, the Wisconsin state chemist, appeared with a scientific paper as a number of the four-days' program. Commissioner Emery says that perhaps the greatest good accomplished by the meeting was the determination that there ought to be enacted as soon as practicable a national food law, applicable to the entire country, and one which would serve as a model for the policies of all the separate states. The assembled commissioners agreed that such a law would not only assist the states in enforcing their laws, but would assist the large manufacturers of foods and food products in obeying the laws.

At present wide diversity prevails in the laws of the different states and manufacturers have no assurance that when they comply with the laws of one state they are not to be prosecuted for violations of more stringent or differently construed laws in other states.

One feature of the convention was the statement made by a representative of a manufacturing company, to the effect that the dairy and food commissioners projected themselves too much into legislation. He said the manufacturers ought to have the first say in regard to what the legislation should be and that the commissioners should conduct themselves merely as administrative officers and not as legislators. This statement was followed by much adverse criticism on the part of the commissioners. They were emphatically of the opinion that if more or less scrupulous manufacturers of foods were the ones who should dictate or large influence pure food legislation there would be exceedingly unsatisfactory food laws passed. The commissioners agreed in the conference that there should be some authority nearer to the people and their interests than are the manufacturers to suggest what laws should be passed for the purpose of regulating the manufacture and sale of food products.

Charles Ziegler, a former well known Janesville boy, the son of T. J. Ziegler of the T. J. Ziegler Clothing company of this city, died in Chicago this morning. His friends here are numbered by the score and his untimely death will certainly bring sorrow into many a Janesville home. ## SHARES WITH HIS EMPLOYEES

President of Shoe Company Plans Co-operative System.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 28.—"We will share the profits of our business with our own employees in the future."

This was the keynote of the address by President A. W. Rich of the Rich Shoe company at a luncheon given in honor of his 60th birthday, July 27.

"We propose to effect an organization of our company in such a way as to allow our employees to become profit-sharers," said Mr. Rich. "If one of our men or women has $200 we will issue to him or her four times that amount in stock. He will be required to pay a reasonable interest on extra stock and we will assure to him a certain income. Provision will be made for giving bonus to those employees who have been with us for a long time."

People one meets are of two classes—the one perfectly satisfied with everything that belongs to them, the other complaining because everything nice belongs to some one else.

Two of the Stranded Show People Will Appear on South River Street, To Raise Car Fare.

One section of the defunct Luella-Forepanch-Fish Wild West show will give an exhibition on South River street tonight. Oscar Thompson and Johnnie Blocker, two of the cleverest cowboys in the company, are hoping to be able to board a train for their far west home tomorrow. At present their pockets are as empty as those of any other members of the troupe. To avoid the necessity of begging they have decided to show their skill with bronchos and trust that the spectators will be sufficiently pleased to toss a coin or two into the sombrero.

D. W. Watt and Sheriff Appleby have granted them the use of the ponies, Chief Hogan has allowed them the use of South River street, between West Milwaukee and Court, and the boys will do the rest. They may be assisted by others of the stranded cowboys.

Thompson has his saddle, a valuable piece of workmanship, stolen Sunday night, but yesterday it was found in the bushes along the Beloit road.
